Joshua Bold is the President of AIMS.ORG, an organization whose mission is to take the message of Jesus to the 3.2 billion people with no access. Since 2005, Joshua has been actively involved in planting churches, serving as a missionary in Iraq, and training pastors and leaders worldwide to engage in cross-cultural ministry and church-planting movements among the world's least-reached people groups.

Under Joshua's leadership, AIMS has deployed more than 1,000 indigenous missionaries to preach the gospel and plant churches in 41 countries, resulting in hundreds of thousands of salvations and roughly 6 churches planted every day among unreached tribes.
